Member News

July 31-Aug 3, 2018 IWF Member Aimee Christensen's Sun Valley Institute will hold its 4th Annual Conference, "Turning Risk into Opportunity". Each year the Forum gathers 200-250 national and international leaders and innovators to share strategies, broaden thinking, and ignite new partnerships with a goal of building greater resilience. The Forum showcases successful approaches to building sustainable development, the low carbon economy, and resilience with a particular focus on investment, communication and public engagement.

Congratulations to Randi McDermott who has been named Vice President of Campus Operations for Boise State University effective May 10, 2018. Randi has been with Boise State since 2003, serving as Special Assistant to the President and Chief of Staff and now takes on important operations responsibilities using her deep knowledge of the University and its systems.

Former IWF Idaho Vice President, Peggy Grove, is now President of the Wood River Women's Foundation, and is responsible for leading the 345-member organization that reviews and grants approximately $275,000 annually to local non-profits in the Wood River Valley.

IWF Cornerstone Conference in Melbourne, May 2-4, attracted over 500 IWF members from 30 plus countries on 6 continents. From thought-provoking panels to the iconic Australian hospitality, it was a special event. IWF Idaho President Sarah Michael attended and then traveled to the Northwest Territories where she and former NY IWF Present Dede Bartlett explored 30,000 year aboriginal rock art with Arnhemland Safaris. Sarah learned about this amazing rock art from Peggy Grove who conducted research there over a seven or eight year period as part of her PhD work.

IWF Oregon Retreat

Margery Friedlander, Evelyn Self, Sarah Michael and Elizabeth Mathieu joined 38 IWF members from 7 forums for the Oregon Wine Country Weekend Retreat in the Willamette Valley. We enjoyed two vintner dinners with IWF pioneering women wine makers, museum and historical tours, art making and art tours. Thank you IWF Oregon for this amazing time with so many interesting women.

Save the Date! IWF Cornerstone Conference 2019!

The 2019 IWF Cornerstone Conference will be held in Barcelona, Catalunya, Spain, April 10-12. One of our members, Dr. Gloria Totoricaguena, is steeped in the Basque County and will be leading a tour for our interested fellow members from April 3-9, starting and ending in Bilbao before moving on to the IWF Cornerstone Conference. If you would like to join the tour that starts in Bilbao, Gloria would like to have a huddle at the Annual Meeting on August 4 with you to go over the outline of what the group will likely do. Questions? Email Gloria at gloria@idahopolicy.com.
